gambling, prostitution, and marijuana are to be legal in all parts of the country and therefore expected to account for a considerable portion of the nation's revenue.

one of the ways risperdal works in treating mental disorders is by blocking dopamine in the brain.

according to the labs, between January and June 2009, methamphetamine was most commonly seen in the west, where it accounted for 25.49 percent of the drugs analyzed by labs in that region.

the probably with mobile billboards is the trucks don't have any other function except advertising, so they're needlessly burning gas and adding to congestion.

all I know is that neither is likely to earn you friends.